Encounter the Encoder: How Precious Gems can beat the Skin Aging Clock in Potions and Lotions (and be sweet for your purse)

For Immediate Release

Medica Health International introduces the new Theragem™ Encoder, a cutting edge technology that encodes liquids, oils and crème's with the power of precious gems and crystals with body's own electromagnetic frequencies that skin and hair so disparately need to rejuvenate their optimum healthy shine!

This new device in the well respected non invasive Fusion Light Therapy range will be an absolute must in the health conscious skin beauty industry. The speed and ease of use, placing a product such as an essential oil, or a standard crème into the encoding cup(s) with one of our beautiful range of Gemcups a selected setting, intensity and a time limit. A beep will announce the end of the session with the oil or crème instantaneously enhanced in performance, ready for use during a facial, in skin therapy, or during a massage. As an enthusiastic well respected therapist recognized: 'I cannot bring that deep a level of quality and care despite my expertise!'

Medica Health International Managing Director/CEO, Catharina Jansma said: "The Encoder is adaptable to a person's or therapists preferred settings, which means it is time efficient and can be combined with other therapy treatments such as massages and facials. I personally like to encode my drinking water on balancing with Blue Ayurvedic Sapphires, which gives the water a thicker, smoother texture, keeps me relaxed throughout the day and on top of it, makes my skin glow and hydrated."

The Encoder combines a fusion of precious and semi precious gems crystals together with LED lights, white noise and frequency waves encodes liquids, oils and crèmes which can be safely used on the body. The secret recipes of the ancients blending Rubies, Diamonds, Sapphires, Emeralds, Pearls, Corals and many more gems and crystals to create the optimum enhancement of skin and hair.

This easy to use home and professional device comes with a special introduction offer of 20% discount until 6th September 2014.

Catharina Jansma said: "What makes our product inimitable is that the encoded items help connect with your body and work in a way that replenishes what the body is lacking. The Encoder is an excellent way to get the body back to homeostasis and increases the energy and vitality levels within. Furthermore the product is non-invasive, user friendly and fun to use."

Medica Health International believes in 'Beauty from the Inside out', which is why the Theragem™ Encoder enters the Beauty and Spa Industry 2014, to provide people with a unique non-invasive technology, that allows the skin to look radiant in its own way, without using injections, chemicals or surgery.
