Protecting yourself against radiation, harmful chemicals and toxins is an ongoing issue with recent events amplifying a stronger need and yet most of the world's public are unaware of the dangers happening around us. With the most recent events in Japan's Fukushima and now North Korea's detonating powerful hydrogen nuclear bomb, the repercussions of the effects on the planet, to our environment and ultimately our own bodies, is detrimental to our health and wellbeing.

Radiation is the biggest factor in how this affects our daily bodily function, with harmful rays of energy attacking the body, common symptoms can be; weakening the functionality of our immune system, damaging of body cells, increased risks of cancer and more.

So can we protect ourselves from it? There are many different credible pieces of equipment available that will help, one of which is Theragem Crystal Light Therapy, with the natural non-invasive effects of the Positive Protect and Shield Gemcup. Designed as a pro-active, positive response to recent worldwide events, this powerful Gemcup will protect and strengthen mind, body, soul and spirit from radioactive and electromagnetic emissions and pollution.

Managing Director, Catharina Jansma said: "With worldwide events occurring more often harmful to the environment and the Human Biofield, it is imperative we look after our bodies by using Theragem with Elation and Spleen alongside natural products on our skin such as mineral elements of iodine and essential oils such as Rosemary.

What makes Theragem unique shows in our 99.9% success rate and the quality and care with the handmade Gemcups specific for certain ailments to protect the body providing optimum homeostasis."
